

Largest Craft Show in Northeast Kansas For 31 Years!

In 1982, a small arts and crafts fair was started at Apple Valley Farm at Lake Perry (approximately 30 miles northeast of Topeka). In the intervening years, Cider Days has moved and matured, growing into the premier fall festival in Northeast Kansas and the "must-see" annual destination for thousands of area residents.

The two-day event, on the fourth weekend of September, attracts thousands of visitors each year to its arts and crafts exhibits, pioneer demonstrations, food and entertainment. Crafters sell their various wares inside the Landon Arena and Exhibition Hall of the Expocentre and pioneer demonstrations, local entertainers and ethnic food are found outside on the grounds, where straw bales provide resting areas and rides beckon children and adults.
